$1.00 per Year In Advance

The Fair and the Show.

Last week was a gaily time for the people of Knox county. The attendance was the largest in years, and everybody was enthusiastic. The attractions were the best ever had on the grounds at any previous exhibition of the Fair.

T. P. Littlejohn furnished most of the attraction, he had everything from a circus to a drink stand on the grounds, and had his old Plantation shows down town which was crowded to its fullest capacity every night in the week. Mr. Littlejohn is not only a good entertainer, but he is a real gentleman, with none except real clean people, both white and black, in his whole troupe of more than a hundred people. He promised he would return next year and the people here will look forward to the time with great expectation. He did his part in making Knox County's Fair a real success. The Fair Company is to be complimented on having secured him. The Fair Company have "waked up" and we go the assertion that next year will be a better year than this.

FARM FOR SALE.

Union College to Open Fall Term Sept. 13.

Next Wednesday, the 13th, Union College will open its Fall term, and we would be glad to see it filled to overflowing capacity. This is a College that is fostered by one of the greatest churches in the world, and it should have the hearty support of all religious societies. Founded in the year 1879, by the "Folks at Home," and afterwards bought by the Methodist Episcopal Church, it has had its hard times and its good times. It is today backed by a sufficient fund to make any and all concessions to the boy or girl who is poor and is desirous to obtain an education. The doors will swing wide open Wednesday morning, with Rev. E. T. Franklin, D. D., as its President, with a corps of teachers that is the equal of any to be found in the whole country. The President and Faculty would be pleased to see as many as can present.

Circuit Court.

Circuit Court convened here last Monday with Judge Flem D. Sampson presiding. There was an unusual large crowd in town and it appeared to be a good time for someone to say something and so Hon. S. H. Kash, Elector at large for the State of Kentucky on the Republican ticket, was called for and delivered one of the strongest speeches delivered this year. Mr. Kash did not leave a greasy spot of the Democratic administration, and made it plain to all present that the party of Lincoln and McKinley was the right party to tie on to in the coming election.

At the conclusion of Mr. Kash's speech, Judge Sampson instructed the Grand Jury and they retired to their room. Judge Sampson being desirous to attend the opening of the Republican campaign went to Lexington on the 2 o'clock train, and Hon. Sawyer A. Smith held court on Monday afternoon and Tuesday while he was away.

Civic League to Meet.

The Civic League will meet next Thursday, the 14th, at the residence of Mrs. E. T. England. It is an important meeting and all members should be present.

CHARLES EVANS HUGHES.

HUGHES STARTS THE BALL ROLLING

Old Kentucky Will Go Republican This Fall Is the Predictions of the Leaders and All ARE IN GREAT SPIRITS

Lexington, Ky., Sept. 5, 1916.

Special to the Mountain Advocate:

Today was a great day for Lexington and Fayette county. As scheduled, the special train bearing Chas. E. Hughes, Republican nominee for President arrived at Union station at 11 o'clock and was at once received by the committee and rushed to the Phoenix Hotel where a reception was given.

The crowd began to come in on last night, and this morning every regular train over ever road coming into this city was crowded to its fullest capacity, besides all this many special trains were run to accommodate the people that wanted to hear the next president speak. There was music, and applause were loud and long. It is a low estimate to say that there were 20,000 people in attendance and that it was the greatest political demonstration ever witnessed in the Capital of the Blue Grass section of the State.

Promptly at 2:30 p. m. Hon. John W. Yerkes, the chairman, called the house to order, and introduced the Hon. Edwin P. Morrow who was received with great applause, and not until some ten minutes was he able to get in a word; men and women stood on chairs and cheered this Kentucky's favorite son. He, in one of his masterly flights of oratory, held his audience breathlessly with admiration and applause until he closed with the words: "Fellow citizens, I now introduce to you the next President of the United States." Then it was that wild pandemonium reigned for more than fifteen minutes, Mr. Hughes stood patiently and waited for the great applause to cease, then with that courteous bow, he began, what to everyone was the most masterly speech ever delivered in Kentucky. He was not antagonistic; but he took up the issues of the day and discussed them with great skill and ability. He took up the Mexican policy of President Wilson, and made it so plain "that a fool though a wayfaring man" could not help but to see that the blunders of Wilson are many. He also took up the protective tariff question, and proved to the minds of the sober thinking man both Democrat and Republican, that this country cannot be run upon a tariff for revenue only. At the conclusion of his speech he went directly to his train and speeded his way toward Cincinnati, Ohio.

The crowd was so large that the big auditorium would not begin to hold the crowd, so while Mr. Hughes was delivering his speech in the auditorium, Mr. Yerkes and Mr. Morrow were addressing a much larger crowd in the Park just behind the auditorium.

It is strange to note that the Democratic newspapers of the country, are awfully afraid that Mr. Hughes will ruin the Republican party. Well what business is it to a Democrat if he does ruin it? The Courier Journal, in the column under the title "The Latest" says: "The most part of the delegation was from the Mountains and that they had their way paid." We deny that statement. We know most of the men from the Eleventh. While many were there from the Eleventh, each and every man of them paid their own way. The people from the Mountains do not have to have their way paid to attend a Republican gathering; they don't have to have money to get them to go to the polls and vote. They are thrifty men; they all have money; they are from the richest portion of the State; all they want, all they need and all they demand is to be liberated from the throes of the Democratic party.

Barbourville Baptist Institute Begins Fall Term.

Last Tuesday the Barbourville Baptist Institute opened in great working style, with Dr. J. A. Lowry, President, at the helm. This School has a bright future, and all who are looking for an education should patron this Institution. Its teachers are capable, and the charges are the most reasonable. Its students always stand at the head when it comes to teachers examinations as will be shown by the report of the Superintendent of Public Schools of Knox County for this year. They hold out to you a cordial invitation to come and visit this school, see what it is and how well equipped they are for the education of your children.

How to Give Good Advice

The best way to give good advice is to set a good example. When others see how quickly you get over your cold by taking Chamberlain's Cough Remedy they are likely to follow your example. This remedy has been in use for many years and enjoys an excellent reputation. Obtainable everywhere.

Enamel Ware "Made In America"

Washington, Sept. 5. (Special Correspondence) "Civilized man cannot live without cooks," and the evolution of civilization has given us enamel-ware kitchen utensils. It was the ambition of Henry IV of France to see every peasant have a chicken in the pot. A decadent Democratic party in this country and in this age would substitute hominy for chicken, boiled in a pot made in Europe, and that party stands for a trade policy which would reduce American laborers to the peasant class.

Thirty companies employing 15,000 laborers are engaged in the production of enamel-ware in New York, Pennsylvania, West Virginia, Ohio, Illinois, Indiana, Wisconsin, Missouri, and Maryland, and the capital invested amounts to about $20,000,000. Under the protective tariff policy the industry showed largely increased wages, and a decrease in the cost of the products averaging 50 per cent.

A large percentage of the cost of producing enamelware is paid to labor, and the wages paid in European countries exporting this class of goods show the foreign rate to be from 25 to 40 per cent of the rates paid in this country. For instance: Annealers receive from $13 to $22 more per week here than in Germany; picklers $11 to $13; dippers $10 to $15; burners $13 to $20; and burners helpers $9 to $15 more than paid in the German industry.

All foreign countries have protective duties on this product, save Great Britain, which will return to the protective policy after the war. These rates range from 34 per cent, in France and Italy, to 84 per cent, in Russia. When the enamelware makers of this country appeared before the Ways and Means Committee of Congress, they presented forcible arguments for a retention of the Republican duty rate of 40 per cent, but the Democrats made a 38 per cent slash in the rate, or reduced it from 40 per cent to 25 per cent. They said a decrease in the duties would so increase the imports that considerably more revenue would be realized by the Federal Treasury.

Wilson's Extravagance

The democratic party stands before the whole civilized world today convicted of the charge of being the most expensive, extravagant and hypocritical bunch of so called statesmen and lawmakers that ever desecrated the footstool of Almighty God.

All the time crying "economy," "economy," "reform," "reform" and all the time running its greedy fingers deeper and deeper into the peoples pocket. The world staggering extravagance of the Wilson Administration is enough to send a shiver of alarm through the breast of every liberty loving man in the United States. It seems impossible to imagine how any one imbued with the principals of fair play and just conceptions of the objects and ends of the Government, can defend or endorse the worlds staggering extravagance of the Wilson crowd. It was bad enough to have them ruthlessly sweep from the Statute books our protective tariff laws which provided abundant revenues to meet all demands of a republican administration and then set up a wild cat free trade law that favors the foreign manufacture, fails to reduce the high cost of living, produces a deficit in the National Treasury and causes the people to have to pay a hundred million in "war tax" stamps, but democracy does not stop at that point. Instead of endeavoring to fit expenditures with its reduced free trade income, it takes the other road, and piles a bill of expenses of one half billion dollars larger than any other party ever did in the history of the Nation. The figures of the present session of Congress have just been made public in a statement by Representative Fitzgerald, chairman of the committee of appropriations. He says the expense of this session will be $1,500,000,000 that means $15.00 for every man, woman and child in America, or about $100.00 for every family. That's what Wilson's democracy is costing you, whereas the republicans did not exceed over two thirds of that amount. And what are you getting to show for this increase of expense of government? Suppose you think about that a little before you cuss the republican party Mr. Democrat, for assailing your beloved party. Mr. Democrat, suppose you ask yourself if living is any cheaper—Democracy in 1912 said it would be under its beneficent rule. Suppose you ask yourself if the rights of American citizens are more highly respected under democracy than under republicanism.

The Baltimore platform declared that democracy stood for a mighty dignified recognition of American rights at home and abroad. Suppose you ask yourself if your taxes have become any lighter since democracy, either State or National, got control of affairs. You know that "low taxes," "retrenchment" and "reform" are the slogan of democracy, but you further know, whether you are honest enough to admit it or not, the increased expenses and extravagance have been the history of democracy in both State and Nation every time it has gotten into power.

Today the democratic politicians and the democratic Editors are sweating like harvest hands in Kansas in their effort to make the people believe that it is to their interest to re-elect Woodrow Wilson and his democratic Congress that demands $1,500,000,000 of your money to keep their ransacked and discredited administration going. But the old game will not work. The people of the United States are disgusted with this bunch—Their days are numbered—Enough of anything is a plenty. On the seventh day of November the host of Republicans, the Bull Moosers, the old Liners, the Hughesites will all be marching under one banner—the banner of Americans, protection, prosperity, and preparedness, will sweep from the face of the Earth this BILLION AND A HALF DOLLARS A YEAR bunch of boobs that promised us meat of prosperity and give us a hundred million dollar "war tax" free trade whetstones.

Think for your own self Mr. citizen of the United States and try and see if we are not the worst misrepresented set of citizens beneath the whole canopy of heaven. Let us here in Kentucky shake off the yoke that so heavily besets us as a free people. Let us show to the world that we are tired of the corrupt manner which the State and Nation is being handled by those who have been entrusted the destination of this proud land. Let every republican and liberty loving democrat go to the polls on November the 7th, and do his duty by turning out a bunch that are there for revenue only, and who have not the interest of us all at heart.

Among all the people who attended the speaking at Lexington there was only one little simlin-headed fool that had the impudence to yell for Woodrow Wilson. We regret this, as we are sure that if Mr. Wilson was to come to Eastern Kentucky, as bad as some would have us in this section, that we have none that would so far forget himself, as not to respect the man who is at the head of this great nation, or one that has been designated as a man fit for that high position by either of the great political parties. But this was not, we are sure, a mountain democrat. The mountain democrat is as a rule a gentleman, he is democrat from principal, because he thinks it is right to be one, not for vulgar glory or fame, or for the hope of fee or reward. So it is with the mountain republican, he is in ninety-nine cases in a hundred a gentleman.

We call your attention to the announcement of G. B. Detherage, of Warren, Knox County, Kentucky, who is a candidate for the office of County Judge. Mr. Detherage needs very little introduction as he is as well known possibly, as any other man in Knox County.

Mr. Detherage has been a member of the Fiscal Court for many years, and has always been found doing all in his power for the uplift of the people of the whole County, and not confining himself to the constituent of his own district alone. He has always been a loyal republican, fighting its battles, and helping in any and all ways possible that was honorable to further its principals. He is a man that is not only well known, but is liked

THE COUNTRY TEACHER

—Her Opportunities And Possibilities

By E. B. HEMPHILL

That the possibilities of the teacher in the country school are exceedingly great none will doubt who has made the proper investigations.

The service of the teacher in the rural district is one of great joy and dignity.

The teacher who will open her eyes and see opportunities around her, and who is willing to work fearlessly for the new order of things in the country has great opportunity for the development of the character of the boys and girls who in the near future will be the leaders in the social, industrial and political affairs of the nation. One draw back to the more efficient country school is the fact that so few teachers choose country teaching as profession and make that teaching a stepping stone to some other vocation, or teach just enough to get sufficient experience to qualify them as a town or city teacher.

Very recently I ask a graduate of one of our State Normal schools to take a position as teacher in a large school in the country, the reply was: "If I cannot get a position in a city school I will not teach." So this fact brings to my mind another fact that of our dozen graduates from our state normals not more than one can be found in our country schools and a very small per cent of that number teaching at all. Hence the importance of the establishment of County High Schools in our county to meet the needs of our country people. We often hear it said: I cant do this or that because of the environments, or havn't got time, or the proper equipments. We forget the fact that the country schools is the social center around which every other social condition in the country revolve. Our country schools are the moral and intellectual lever that lifts our citizens from the growing depths of ignorance and places them on glorious sunlight of christianity and civilization. We often hear this statement: you can get the

by the men who know him best. He has the largest train of relatives of any man most, in the County, and the fellows who enter the race for County Judge will find at the close of the campaign that there is lots of truth in all that is here stated. He will enter upon a vigorous campaign, and will be around to see you and tell what he stands for. Keep your eagles eye on G. B.

Campaign Comments

It is unfortunate that Kentucky has a Governor who must be mandamusd by the courts to obey a law he has sworn to execute.

In addition to drawing a salary of $23.96 a day from the Federal Treasury for managing the Democratic Campaign in Kentucky, Congressman Cantrill is evading postage on his campaign letters by abuse of the franking privilege.

To the Republicans it is a gleeful spectacle to see Capt. Stanley madly heading the Kentucky Democracy for the rocks. Go to it, Owsley, go to it!

Granting as it does the high ideals and lofty intentions of President Wilson, the country looks with a feeling of genuine pity upon his feeble helplessness in the face of a national crises.

No, this is not a shaft of sarcasm of the Republican Campaign Press Bureau, though as such it would be a clever comment, but an editorial from National Committeeman Haldeman's paper, the Louisville Times.

"The party that has brought about prosperity during the war, the like of which the world has boy out of the country, but you can't get the country out of the boy. Now what we need is to put more spirit of country and country life into the boy—to enthruse him with the many golden opportunities that is not found in the city or town. Our schools should be the means of imparting knowledge, that is a part of the lives of the people, working our boys and girls to the opportunities around them in their country homes, teaching them the truths that make all real education in terms of every day life. The great trouble is too many of us teachers are willing to lie supremely on our backs hugging the delusive phantom of hope waiting for perfect conditions and equipments and not starting to do things. I believe it was Henry Clay that said "Don't wait for something to turn up but rather turn something up."

The opportunity to teach just such things as the people need together with the growing idea that the schools must deal with every day living is the greatest form and movement in education. It is nice to have a college university education, but the great need of today is teaching in terms of the lives of the people's education obtained from the books of human experience written in the language of the people. An education that is alive, progressive, and practical. We need to impart that kind of knowledge that will train both mind and muscle. Boys and girls must be trained to meet the demands of every day life and activity, which concern human welfare. Books are tools not ends. We need to carry practical results of human experience to the people, to help them with their own peculiar problems. We need that kind of teaching that will cause our people to know the fact that the home is the center of the worlds interests, and that education is of value only as it lends to safeguard and improves the home and home life.

never known, ought to be able to maintain that prosperity when peace comes."

I have bungled the job, gentlemen, now I turn it over to you," is respectfully offered as a substitute for the President's strike message to Congress.

Since a certain date in June last, the very mention of the name of Theodore Roosevelt strikes terror to the hearts of the Democratic managers.

Mr. Hughes finds it difficult to please the Democratic newspapers prior to his Western tour they mourned over his silence and now they rave because he talks.

Three days of court cost the State of Kentucky $498. In the same three days there were $110 fines entered; $50 of this paid in jail, leaving $60 of this amount. The State will receive 12 per cent after taking off $30 to the Commonwealth's attorney, $15 to the County attorney, $6 to the clerk of the court, and $1.20 to the trustee of the jury fund, leaves to the State the sum of $7.80.

For County Judge

I wish to announce myself as a candidate for the Office of County Judge of Knox County, subject to the action of the Republican party at the primary to be held August 4th, 1917. I have always been a republican, have voted the ticket and espouse its cause. I believe that I am qualified to fill this responsible position with credit to myself, and profit to the taxpayers of Knox County. If nominated and elected to this Office you will find me every day in the year at my post of duty to take care of the interest of the whole people.

Very truly yours,
G. B. Detherage.

Editorial Comment.

Bryan butts, Wilson tuts.

Watchful waiting maketh woeful waiting.

Candidate Hughes doesn't talk like a tut-tut-tut.

Hughes is hammering and the Democrats are yammering.

The Wilson Administration stands for taxes, and more taxes.

The Hughes trail will be cold by the time the Democrats strike it.

As a party leader, would it be fair to refer to J. Ham Lewis as J. "Pork" Lewis?

Can the folks on the Democratic band wagon continue to play by the president's notes?

Bryan says Mr. Hughes' talks aren't judicial. No. The people can understand 'em perfectly.

Hughes says the country can't be saved by letting it drift. That's where he and W. Wilson differ.

Washington reports that a new apology has been sent to First Chief Carranza. Looks like a habit.

Mr. Bryan is mistaken when he says Hughes is "vitiollic." The candidate is merely applying the acid test.

Political opponents are beginning to find that why Mr. Hughes kept silence so long wasn't because he had lost his tongue.

Another encouraging feature about our new navy is that when it is completed Mr. Daniels will not be secretary of it.

Having discovered that the Democrats don't like what he is saying, Mr. Hughes doubtless is convinced that he is on the right track.

A bond issue by the Wilson administration is merely Uncle Sam's note, and the best thing Woodrow Wilson does is to write notes.

Mr. McCormick follows the same method in claiming credit for legislation as he does in his predictions. He includes several acts of the Taft administration.

The Democratic press is convinced that it is the duty of Mr. Hughes to say something that will hurt his chance of being elected.

President Wilson in his acceptance speech may reply to Mr. Hughes' charges, but he will not answer them. That is an entirely different matter.

A messenger of President Wilson found out that Colorado women were for the administration. No messenger, of course, can be blamed for making good.

It is reported from Washington that the administration will ignore most of Mr. Hughes' charges. That is very much the easiest way for it to answer them.

President Wilson will not make any speaking dates, we are told, but only separate engagements for addresses, considering a "speaking tour" undignified. "Too proud to fight."

Tammany Leader Charles F. Murphy announces that he will retire after the campaign. It is believed that many other more or less distinguished Democrats will follow his example.

Governor Hughes announces in one of his speeches that he is a constructionist. But we are willing to admit that so far as Democratic policies are concerned he is a destructionist.

President Wilson will be notified of the Democratic nomination at Shadow Lawn. This seems a most appropriate place for letting him know that he will shortly have to give up his place in the sun.

Grover Cleveland was the last Democratic president. He was also the last president to issue bonds to secure money to defray the running expenses of the government. But Wilson will tie him in this.

"Eminent judges," says Colonel Henry Watterson, "have ever proved disappointing candidates." He is right. Alton B. Parker was a big disappointment to the Democrats. And so is Charles Evans Hughes.—Toledo Blade.

What Josephine Daniels, the well known nautical militarist, can't understand is why men should waste time Plattsburging at sea when they might just as well learn how to become sailors in three lessons in any good, reliable correspondence school.

President Wilson appears to have been keenly alive to the expediency of accepting several invitations to make speeches in the West. Nobody knows any better than he that it will take considerable shovelling to fill up the holes that have been dug in that locality by Justice Hughes.

It was John P. St. John of Kansas, one time Prohibitionist candidate for president of the United States, who said that Americans vote as they cheer. If so, there is mighty little consolation for the Democratic party in this campaign, for the Democratic administration in three years has given us nothing to cheer over. On the contrary, as Mr. Hughes has said, these last three years have been years of humiliation and embarrasment.

How did it work out? The Underwood tariff law took effect October 3, 1913. From that time until the close of the fiscal year, June 30, 1914, $678,520 worth of enamelware was imported, on which $169,630 of duty was collected. During a similar period under the Republican protective tariff law we imported $508,205 worth of these goods which paid revenue amounting to $203,232. In other words, the Democratic law gave an increase of 34 per cent in imports and a decrease of 17 per cent in the revenues. At the Democratic rate of duty it would have required a 10 per cent increase in the amount of imports to equal the amount of revenue collected under Republican rates from October, 1912, to June, 1913. This illustrates the fallacy and danger of the Democratic policy. Imports sufficient to make an appreciable increase in revenues after the rates had been reduced must result in a terrific handicap to American manufacturers.

There are three German bands which, in normal times, hold a fair share of the American market. They are Stranky steel ware, Pyrolite and Elite enamel ware. Considerable annoyance has been caused Government officials and American manufacturers because the Germans have persisted in undervaluing this product, thereby getting the benefit of lower duties under the "unfinished goods" clause. Another method which Germany has of beating us to it is to sell 10 per cent of her enamel ware product at home at no profit, while the 90 per cent of export is based on the home market valuation. This would prevent the application of the anti-dumping clause which the Democrats are parading before the public at this time. That clause can become operative only when goods are being dumped in this country at prices less than those received in the country of origin. But notwithstanding all these considerations, the Democratic party is committed to enamel ware "Made in Europe".

THE INCONSIDERATE BEHAVIOR OF A CANDIDATE.

Why does Mr. Hughes insist upon talking about that old fashioned, not to say "iniquitous" doctrine, the protective tariff? For nearly the whole period of its industrial existence the United States struggled along under protection. The Democratic party in 1913 came to the relief of an afflicted and burdened people.

The Republican Administration (not a account of the tariff, it is true) was overthrown. Before taking over the reins of government, and for many years prior to that time, countless Democratic statesmen had vainly tried to persuade the American people that the protective tariff was an iniquity, a veritable contrivance of devils. It fostered the trusts, and it was an elevator of prices even to the thirty-seventh story and the tower. They promised relief. The poor should be no longer oppressed; the cost of living should be reduced—must be, as the sure result of a tariff for revenue—protective only in spots, such as the Louisiana sugar mills and the Carolina cotton factories.

Doesn't Mr. Hughes know what the Administration did which he is now attacking? He ought to know. The Democrats, under the leadership of Mr. Wilson and Mr. Underwood, repealed that iniquity and abomination, the Payne-Aldrich tariff law—that foster mother of trusts and high prices—and enacted in its place the present law. Mr. Hughes knows, of course, as every head of a family in America knows, that the trusts have not yet been dissolved and that the cost of living is higher than ever—that the price of everything has reached an unheard-of height—but what of it?

What of it, indeed? While it is true that a protective tariff never failed under any circumstances to protect American industry and American labor, it is to be considered that the war in Europe has upset the plans of the present low tariff administration.

Now, the obvious thing for Mr. Hughes to do is to give the Democrats a chance to get their tariff on straight. Never mind the patient; let the doctor experiment. That time won't come, of course, until the war is over—according to the Democratic version. In other words, the tariff for revenue doctrine doesn't fit the conditions; the conditions must be made to fit the tariff. So why this disturbance, Mr. Hughes?

Besides, when you discuss a little thing like the tariff, do you not know that Son-in-Law McAdoo and the other statesmen of the Democratic family are likely to repeat their accusation that you are "pettifoggish"?—Charles-ton (W. Va.) Mail.

AN UNBIASED VIEW.

Comment in Washington Shows Hughes' Speeches Have Concrete Effect.

From Washington correspondence New York Evening Post.

It is idle even for the Democrats to claim that Mr. Hughes' speeches have not been effective. Whether or not they have seemed so to the voters in the west and northwest is something very difficult to judge at this distance, but it is not to be denied that right here in Washington Mr. Hughes' utterances have had a very concrete effect. It is an ill wind that blows no good. The rumors that Mr. Hughes has stirred up about civil service reform has really got under the skin of the administration. It is something which the president and his political advisers carelessly ignored. So it is with a portion of Mr. Hughes' criticism of the Mexican policy. When he argues that the paramount duty of the United States is to protect its citizens abroad in their lives and property he is standing on unimpeachable ground. And the administration knows it. The effect certainly of Mr. Hughes' remarks will be to stiffen the hand of the administration in dealing with a question of protection for Americans abroad.

HUGHES' LABOR RECORD.

When Mr. Gompers, remembering only that he is a Democrat and forgetting that he is a leader of organized labor, ventured to assert that Mr. Hughes is unfriendly to labor because he concurred in the unanimous decision in the Danbury hatters' case, he ventured on very thin ice. The Chicago Tribune promptly reminds him that an honest judge must apply the law as he thinks it is, not as he thinks it ought to be, and asks him to tell those who look to him for political advice something about the record of Mr. Hughes as governor. Read what the Legislative Labor News, the official organ of the New York Federation of Labor, said editorially when Mr. Hughes left the governor's chair at Albany for his place on the supreme court. Here it is: "Now that Governor Hughes has retired from politics and ascended to a place on the highest judicial tribunal in the world, the fact can be acknowledged without hurting anybody's political corns that he was the greatest friend of labor laws that ever occupied the governor's chair at Albany. During his two terms he has signed fifty-six labor laws, including among them the best labor laws ever enacted in this or any state."

"He also urged the enactment of labor laws in his messages to the legislature, even going so far as to place the demand for a labor law in one of his messages to an extra session of the legislature."

"Only 162 labor laws have been enacted in this state since its creation in 1777—in 133 years. One-third of these, exceeding in quality all of the others, have been enacted and signed during Governor Hughes' term of three years and nine months."

Let organized labor take to heart what the Chicago Tribune says on this point: "Mr. Hughes is no demagogue and no visionary. He is a man of courage and conscience, and if labor cannot confide in his cause to his rock bottom Americanism there is something wrong with its cause."—Boston Herald.

THE GREATEST OF READJUSTERS

(From the New York Evening Post.)

We do not see why there should have been any stir in the senate over the discovery that President Wilson has completely reversed himself in the matter of the proposed child labor law. Senator Borah was able to show that Mr. Wilson described this legislation in his "Constitutional Government" as unconstitutional and "obviously absurd extravagance," carrying the congressional power to regulate commerce beyond the "utmost boundaries of reasonable and honest inference," and making it possible, if sustained, for congress to legislate over "every particular of the industrial organization and action of the country." That, we must confess, has also been the Evening Post's view. But the Evening Post and Senator Borah are old fogies, dating back to the time when it was the custom to have fixed beliefs and principles and stick to them.

The senator has evidently not read Mr. Wilson's letter in explaining his change of front on the tariff commission—that it is only a narrow man whose mind is stupidly closed to new ideas, who does not alter his opinions. By this test Mr. Wilson is obviously one of the broadest minded men this country has ever produced, for he has changed his mind to date on the initiative, referendum, recall, woman suffrage, the tariff commission, tariffs for revenue only, a permanent diplomatic service beyond politics, the merit system in the civil service, the proper place of Tammany Hall in the scheme of the universe, child labor legislation, preparedness, Bryan, a continental army—but why continue? It is a long enough list to prove that Mr. Wilson's political views are not fossilized by any fear of inconsistency.

The Editor of this sheet went to Lexington Monday, where he attended the Republican Rally Tuesday, and heard the next President lambast the wind out of Woodrow's Mexican Policy. It was some speech, Pal.

HE KEPT US OUT OF WHAT WAR?

Disingenuous to Boast That It's Through Any Act of Wilson We Are Out of the European Contest.

RATHER SHOULD BE BLAMED FOR MEXICO BELLIGERENCY

During the Present Administration We Have Seized a Mexican Port and Sent Our Entire Army and Militia to Fight Mexicans While Armed Mexican Forces Have Invaded American Soil and Fought Battles Against Our People.

Sometimes you hear men, sensible men, too, say, "I'm going to vote for Wilson this year because he kept us out of war."

Ask such men a short question. Ask them, "Out of what war?" Did Mr. Wilson keep us out of the European war? No. He has himself in a formal address to congress spoken of the European war as "a war with which we have nothing to do, a war whose causes do not touch us." How could Mr. Wilson keep us out of a war with which we have nothing to do and whose causes do not touch us?

Did he keep the rest of the western hemisphere out of the European war? No independent nation on this side of the world is involved in it; the only people in it are the colonies of European powers and they had no voice in their fate, for they were automatically at war when their mother governments went to war. Who kept Argentina, Brazil, Chile, Peru, out of the European war? Did Mr. Wilson?

Did Mr. Wilson keep us out of war with Mexico? No. In his term more Americans have been killed by Mexicans and more American property has been destroyed by Mexicans than by Spaniards during the whole Spanish war. In his term we have seized a Mexican port and have sent our entire regular army and militia to fight Mexicans. In his term Mexican armed forces have invaded American soil and fought battles against our people within our boundaries.

President Taft went through two Mexican revolutions during his term, the revolution against Diaz and the revolution against Madero. American lives were safe in Mexico during that time. No Mexican cities were seized by Americans and no armed Mexicans invaded the United States while Mr. Taft was in the White House. Yet Mr. Taft never thought of asking the American people to vote for him because he kept us out of war with Mexico. He put an embargo on arms so that American weapons would not be sent across the boundary, and he refused to interfere in Mexican affairs. When he left office Mexicans liked Americans, and Americans were safe in Mexico. Since he left office Mexicans hate Americans and Americans dare not remain in Mexico. Did Mr. Wilson keep us out of war with Mexico? Not if words mean anything.

Mr. Wilson did not keep us out of the European war, and he did not keep us out of war with Mexico.

Out of what war, then? —Detroit Free Press.

UNITED STATES' HONOR.

Hughes' Criticism of Foreign Policy Approved in West.

[Portland (Ore.) Telegram.] The Republican party has selected a standard bearer whose utterances from day to day justify the people who chose him. Not only does he bring before the country the shortcomings of the Administration that owes its existence to a divided Republicanism, but his criticism is everywhere constructive.

He tells what must be done and will be done by the party he represents to prevent wastefulness and extravagance in the governmental expenditures and to put a stop to the vacillating policy that has caused other nations to believe that the United States has no intention of backing up its demands made in the interests of justice and humanity.

Most vulnerable of all points in the Democratic armor is its foreign policy. Primarily this is because of the spoils system by which men trained in the consular and diplomatic service through long years, have been displaced to make room for politicians and friends of politicians, whose sole claim to preferment was their services to the Democratic party.

"If I am elected president of the United States," said Mr. Hughes last night, "I propose that every man I put in charge of an important department shall be a man eminently fit to discharge the duties of that department."

The denuding of the diplomatic service of men of experience in order to supply political jobs, as has been done by Mr. Wilson, or with his consent, Mr. Hughes denounces as "a capital offense—trading in the good name of the United States and damaging its honor." "Nobody," he adds, "has a right to pay political debts with the good name and honor of the United States."

Which is clear proof that Mr. Hughes has not been unmindful of the high principles of government which must be maintained in order that this republic shall maintain its place as a shining example to all nations.

CARRANZA (TO UNCLE SAM): "GIDDAP!"

FAMILIES SPLIT ON CAMPAIGN

Wives of Wilson Supporters Will Take Stump For Governor Hughes.

DIVERTING CAMPAIGN PHASE.

Washington.—Families are being divided by the present political issues. Here are a few examples: J. A. H. Hopkins of New Jersey is treasurer of the Progressive (genuine) national committee and has announced that he personally favors the re-election of Wilson. Mrs. Hopkins is a member of the Woman's party and will take the stump and do all she can to prevent the election of Wilson.

Gifford Pinchot is for Hughes and all the militarism Hughes and his backing can secure. Amos Pinchot, his brother, is a member of the American Union Against Militarism and will support Wilson as the lesser of two evils. Representative William Kent of California is a wild-eyed enthusiast for Wilson and is leading a Wilson non-partisan league, while Mrs. Kent is a member of the Woman's party and will stump for the defeat of Wilson.

George Middleton has allied himself with the group of writers who have announced themselves for Wilson, while his wife, Fola La Follette, is one of the members of the Congressional union who will hold Wilson responsible for the defeat of the Susan B. Anthony amendment. Meredith Nicholson is a Wilson supporter, but Mrs. Nicholson will write and stump against Wilson on account of his attitude toward the federal suffrage amendment. Mrs. Louis F. Post is a member of the Woman's Peace party and an ardent Tolstoyan pacifist. Louis F. Post, assistant secretary of labor, is for the administration's "reasonable" program of preparedness.

Mr. Wilson says his mind is progressive, but those who try to follow its progress can never tell the direction it is taking. It is just as likely to be progressing backward as forward.

Friends of Wilson are still trying to explain what he meant by "too proud to fight." But can they tell us what he meant by "strict accountability?"

Will Be a Candidate

I have been asked by many friends to enter the race for the office of County Court Clerk, and have given the matter proper consideration and have come to the conclusion that I will offer myself as a candidate for that office subject to the action of the Republican Primary to be held August 4th, 1917.

This is quite a long way off, but I thought that I might say that I will at the proper time enter the race, and will make an active campaign when the time is right for a field campaign.

Respt. Yours,
W. H. McDonald.

SEEK PROGRESSIVE AND LABOR VOTES ON FALSE CLAIMS

Democrats Posing as the Enactors of Legislation Which the Indisputable Facts Show to Be of Republican Origin.

AUTHORITY ON SOUND SOCIAL LAW CITES 11 GLARING CASES

Organized Labor Resents This Deception and Running True to Form Will in November as at Many Previous Elections Indignantly Smite Those Who Without Justice Lay Claim to Its Gratitude—Even the Much Touted Federal Reserve Law is Based Entirely on the Statistical Research of a Republican Administration.

That "No class is more instant than labor to condemn and punish those who without foundation lay claim to its gratitude" is the assertion of John Williams, ex-commissioner of labor, apropos of certain false claims set forth by Vance McCormick, Democratic national chairman, in behalf of his party.

Chairman McCormick caused to be published in the New York Times, on July 31, an appeal for Progressive and Labor support, based on "twenty measures enacted by congress while President Wilson has been in the White House," and for which he claims credit for the Wilson administration and asks Progressive approbation. Commenting on this statement, the former commissioner of labor says: "Students and promoters of sound social legislation will do well to examine this list, for it contains a number of items of unusual interest."

"We may well believe that it was with a great deal of pride that Mr. McCormick contemplated the record of his party and that he drew a vivid mental picture of Progressives flocking to the support of Mr. Wilson because of the things claimed on behalf of this administration."

"It is a pity that in the interest of truth, which knows neither Democrat, Progressive nor Republican, we must mar this remarkable statement. Nevertheless it is our duty to call attention to the fact that in his effort to induce support for Mr. Wilson the chairman of the Democratic national committee has fallen into a glaring error. We have no desire to disparage the achievements of the Wilson administration, but we must enter emphatic protest against any attempt to pad the record."

"Mr. McCormick claims 'twenty measures enacted by congress while President Wilson has been in the White House.' This claim we dispute. More than one-half are measures enacted under a Republican administration and were approved by ex-President Taft, and for others the Democratic administration deserves no credit."

"Let any one think that this is a groundless assertion, we herewith furnish the record, which can easily be verified:

- "(1) Eight hour law on government work. In effect March 1, 1913. Signed by Mr. Taft.
- "(2) Eight hour provision for post-office clerks. In effect generally Aug. 24, 1912.
- "(3) Eight hour provision applicable to the manufacture of ordinance for the government. In effect Jan. 1, 1913. Signed by Mr. Taft.
- "(4) Children's bureau. In effect April 9, 1912. Signed by Mr. Taft.
- "(5) Industrial commission law to investigate industrial relations. In effect Aug. 25, 1912. Signed by Mr. Taft.
- "(6) The phosphorus match law. Enacted in 1912, effective as to the importation of white phosphorus matches July 1, 1913, and as to the manufacture of such matches July 1, 1913. Signed by Mr. Taft.
- "(7) The department of labor law creating a department with a secretary who shall be a member of the president's cabinet. In effect March 4, 1913. Signed by Mr. Taft.
- "(8) The parcel post law. In effect Jan. 1, 1913. Signed by Mr. Taft.
- "(9) The federal reserve law, which while passed during this administration, is based entirely on the vast work of investigation and compilation done by the monetary commission during the Taft administration and closely follows, except in certain details, the legislation recommended by that commission."
- "(10) The eight hour law for the District of Columbia was fathered and put through by a Republican, Senator La Follette.
- "The anti-trust law antedates the Cleveland administration, although President Cleveland never enforced it. From time to time, as with all great legislative acts, it has been necessary to amend or add to it, and the anti-trust law of the Wilson administration was merely such an amendment, a logical development of the original act."
- "(11) The Commerce Court was actually abolished during the Taft Administration, although it has not been demonstrated that its abolition was a wise step.
- "Any statement hereafter emanating

TANLAC SECURE

Imitation Is Set at Defiance by the Famous Master Medicine.

Tanlac! There is magic in this household word—a magic made by success unpretended and a fame based very solidly on its accomplishments in more than one million homes.

The ingredients for Tanlac are gathered in the remotest parts of the world. From the far North woods to Argentina, below the equator; in Russian Asia, the Alps, Pyrennes, on the sunny shores of Italy, from Brazil, Sumatra, Peru, the West Indies, and the slopes of our own timber-topped Rocky Mountains, come the roots, herbs, bark and even flowers that, under the direction of Herr Joseph Von Trimbach, the noted German chemist, are compounded into Tanlac.

There can be no successful imitation of Tanlac. It is compounded as skillfully and as mysteriously as nature distills the famed mineral waters of Europe.

Tanlac, now universally known as the Master Medicine, is proving invaluable against ailments of the stomach, liver and kidneys, and catarrhal affections of the mucous membranes, which, when neglected, so often affect the vital organs themselves. As a general tonic for half sick, run-down men and women, it builds up the tissues, creates a keen appetite, promotes digestion, vitalizes the blood and brings back color to the cheeks and sparkle to the eyes.

Tanlac may now be obtained in Barbourville at the Herndon Drug Co., where it is being explained daily.

A Correction.

In last week's issue there was a notice of the wedding of Mr. R. B. Minton and Miss Myrtle Cole, and in the hurry of things there was a portion of the account left off, in this that it was not told who Miss Myrtle married. Same was called to the attention of the Editor who went at once and asked for the manuscript, with the purpose of going after the "Devil" or some of the rest of the force, but upon investigation, we found that the typo had followed the copy to the letter hence there was nothing left to be done.

We hasten to state that Miss Cole was married to a real gentleman, in the person of R. B. Minton, a man that we all feel proud of; one who will make his mark in the business world, and a good living for his affable wife. We hope that an occurrence of this kind will not happen again.

Are You Looking Old?

Old age comes quick enough without inviting it. Some look old at forty. That is because they neglect the liver and bowels. Keep your bowels regular and your liver healthy and you will not only feel younger but look younger. When troubled with constipation or biliousness take Chamberlain's Tablets. They are intended especially for these ailments and are excellent. Easy to take and most agreeable in effect. Obtainable everywhere.

George E. Smith, brother of Sawyer A. Smith of this place, is sick with typhoid fever at his home in Wallsend.

Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy

This is a medicine that every family should be provided with. Colic and diarrhoea often come on suddenly and it is of the greatest importance that they be treated promptly. Consider the suffering that must be endured until a physician arrives or medicine can be obtained. Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy has a reputation second to none for the quick relief which it affords. Obtainable everywhere.

Christian Church

There will be services at the Christian Church next Sunday both morning and evening. The subject of the sermon at the forenoon service will be "The New Covenant". At the evening service the minister will preach on "How to Treat Enemies". A large attendance at both services is earnestly desired. The music will be a special feature of the services. All are cordially invited.

$350 and a FORD makes a guaranteed One Ton Truck

The New Era in Transportation that Puts Your Delivery Department on the Profit Earning Side of Your Ledger.

S. Davidson & Bros., big furniture dealers in Des Moines, Iowa, say:

"Your Smith Form-a-Truck is doing the work which previously required two or three teams to handle. It has been very satisfactory."

This letter shows one big reason why Smith Form-a-Truck is revolutionizing previous conceptions of delivery cost. In time saving alone over horse drawn service it is showing a four to one economy.

And in original investment it costs no more than a good pair of horses and a wagon and 50% less than any other fully guaranteed one ton truck. Compared with horse drawn service the Smith Form-a-Truck will do the same work in a day that would now require three two-horse teams.

The very nature of your business as a furniture dealer makes it imperative that you get low hauling cost.

Your sales are practically all delivered. You have to charge the overhead of your delivery department against individual purchases. Any saving that you can make, any cut in prices which you can afford will build up the business you are getting and the profit you are making.

Smith Form-a-Truck will show such a material saving for you that you can reorganize your sale prices. Smith Form-a-Truck is a sturdy built truck attachment that fits over the frame of any Ford car.

Special Lubrication Feature

To guarantee trouble-proof, efficient lubrication for Ford motors used in connection with the Smith Form-a-Truck, we are furnishing as regular equipment with every Smith Form-a-Truck sold, a Stronger Sight Feed Oiler. This is a force feed system with gauge on the dash and a system that insures a positive, even flow of oil to all the working parts on the motor. It reduces the amount of oil consumed—prevents burned out running rods and crank shaft lockings and grinder troubles and increases the life and efficiency of the motor.

Here are the Other Mechanical Features

125" wheelbase—108" loading space—32x3 1/2" solid Firestone truck type tires—wheels, wood artillery type twelve spokes—springs 42" long, semi-elliptic in type. Chassis attachment channel steel 4" deep, strongly reinforced by three cross members and ground plates at rear. Drive, double chain and sprocket, using famous Ford Ford rear axle as jackshaft.

High School Opened Last Monday With Large Enrollment

Last Monday the High School opened, and has the following Instructors: Hugh M. Oldfield, B. S., Principal; Prof. L. H. Mills, Assistant High School work; Prof. W. C. Faulkner, Principal Grammar School; Miss Ota Barton, Sixth Grade; Miss Esther Parker, Fourth and Fifth; Miss Stella Pelley, Second and Third; Miss Willie Prater, First Grade.

The school has an enrollment of 320. This is one of the best High Schools in this end of the State and all who have the opportunity to do so should patronize it. It has as good a corps of teachers as there is in the State, and the opportunity to attend only comes once in a lifetime.

Paragraphs From Hughes' Address At Lexington.

It is a rare pleasure to visit this State and particularly as the spokesman of a reunited party, a party inspired by its highest ideals, reconsecrated to its noblest purposes, the party of Abraham Lincoln, the Kentuckian. We have a new spirit in these recent days in America. It is the spirit that demands legislation in advance of investigation. It is the spirit of force. It is not Americanism.

The day must never come—and I regret to say we have gone very far toward that day—when we shall have any action under pressure, instead of on a consideration of the facts.

I am proud of the achievements of the Republican party. Sometimes when we read distinguished utterances on the other side, it seems as if it were thought that the world began on March 4, 1913.

We can have a tariff honestly framed, in my judgement, to build up and foster American industries, without permitting abuses. That is what I propose.

There is no opportunity for meeting the demand of social justice unless you have stability in the country, unless you have reasonable prosperity and opportunity for American enterprise.

It is sometimes said that the Administration has kept us out of war. I say that only the most inexcusable blunder could get this Nation into war.

We should be solicitous for the honor of the American name throughout the world. The rights of American citizens must be maintained everywhere because they are the rights of American citizens.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Silas Woodson, and little daughter Marjorie, of Dayton, Ohio, Mrs. R. N. Archer, of Cincinnati, Mrs. J. N. Archer, of Middlesboro, Misses Bertie and Lucille Woodson of Flat Lick, were very pleasant visitors of Mrs. F. C. Moore, on Allison Ave, on the second day of the big Knox County Fair.
